

All the Tahoe upholstery fabrics are produced with a factory applied protective finish called Imperviseal. This finish repels the soils and stains common to the real-world environment. This protective finish is the new C-0 formulation based, giving optimum protection against spills of every kind, such as water-based stains like wine and coffee. We recommend cleaning with mild detergent and cold water.

This special cured-in-place finish uses state of the art chemistry to form a barrier of Fluorine atoms around each fiber. This barrier resists wetting by liquid spills and even reduces the attractive forces of dust and dry soil, making dirt easier to remove with a vacuum.

The comfort and value of our luxurious, breathable fabrics are attractive to consumers versus solid surface coverings. With our protective finish and simple cleaning steps, the upholstery is kept looking new longer. When spills do happen, cleanup is made easy, restoring that “like new” look.
